Sewer, Medical School, Crossing Stands by Chamber

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce is urging the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce to start on planning for a major sewer election in Granite City. The board formally endorsed efforts to have the SIU-SW university campus health department site of a new Illinois medical school, and to have adequate safety services installed at the Maryville road rail crossing.

Population Factors 'Most Important' in Planning

(This is the second in a series of articles relating to the newly-completed study of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; statistical information obtained in the two-year study of factors in the Madison-St. Clair county area indicates a shift in population, in certain age groups, from St. Clair to Madison county.)

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission in its second sectional report of planning data, suggests that statistical information obtained in the two-year study of factors in the Madison-St. Clair county area indicates a shift in population, in certain age groups, from St. Clair to Madison county.

Based principally on official U.S. Census figures, the SWIM-APC report on "Population Factors" contains a detailed breakdown of population figures, not only in age groups but also by sex, and numerous statistics on birth and death rates in the two-county area.

These, the report sets out, are invaluable in future planning. In all areas, the lack of such statistics from any source other than the official census, which is made every ten years, is one of the difficulties encountered in planning for the area.

One tabular section of the population report shows that while the population in Granite City rose from 29,468 in 1950 to 40,073 in 1960, the population per house, had increased slightly from 2.26 to 2.28 persons, but the median family income more than doubled, moving up from $3,371 per family annually, in 1950 to $6,743 per year in 1960.

School Attendance Lengthens
During the same period, the report shows, the median number of years of schooling completed in Granite City rose from 8.7 to 9.4 years.

The median family income of $6,743 for Granite City, established for 1960 was the second highest in Madison county, with Wood River showing a slightly higher income of $6,826. Alton was third with $6,653 per family per year.

In reference to the population growth of Madison county, the report states that an examination of total population figures for 21 major cities in the Madison-St. Clair county area shows that all municipalities except two—Venice in Madison county and Monticello in St. Clair county—gained substantially in population figures between the census years of 1950 and 1960.

The population of the area was 383,302 in 1950 and increased to 487,398 in 1960—an increase of 99,096. With few exceptions, the report points out, only relatively minor differences were noted in the population per household figures in both counties, although statistics on this factor are not available for 1960 for many communities of the two-county area.

Net migration of the population from 1950 to 1960 by age shows decreases in the male 15-24 age group in Madison county, and still larger decreases in the 25-34 age group in St. Clair county.

While this shift in population age groups may be attributed to the fact that in Madison county there is a significantly larger number of heavy industrial employers than exists in St. Clair county, the report relates:

But, the report goes on, the by a show of hands for selection of a moderator at the opening of the annual Granite City township meeting in the city hall Tuesday afternoon.

The mayor said he was not at liberty to disclose the name of the firm as yet, "but it is supposed to be a pretty good corporation."

We will be getting a Dunn & Bradstreet report on this firm, as well as any other interested in leasing the ground, to make sure the equity of the city will be protected at all times, he said.

The city engineer is to draw a topographic map of the tract showing its exact location in respect to rail and highway facilities.

It will be the first firm to locate in the place park which the city purchased about a year and a half ago from the Niedringhaus estate.

GC Tw. Electors Battle Over Assessor Pay

An unusual two-way factional fight over the assessor's pay was the subject of a heated exchange of words between the two assessor-elects Tuesday afternoon.

Approximately 125 persons got a $200 per month expense account to make up a deficiency in a $9000 per year salary. The budget was adopted without any changes.

The town meeting was preceded at 1 p.m. by a public hearing for discussion of the township budget, appropriation and tax levy, but the 15-minute session was devoted to a heated exchange of words between Seventh Ward Alderman G. H. Sternberg and Barton. The public hearing, in which no changes developed in the budget was only a forerunner of the subsequent town meeting at 2 p.m.

Major issues in the annual town meeting involved Barton's expense account, which was voted last December by the Granite City council as the town board in lieu of a salary increase allowable under state law. Barton had filed the proper application within 30 days of his taking office as assessor. Barton failed to do so.

Nonn Heads Group
At the same time, according to political sources, a movement to remove William Schooley as town attorney reportedly was headed by Fifth Ward Alderman Walter Nonn, who was nominated at the opening of the meeting as a candidate for moderator. Nonn was defeated, and, as a result, the reported attempt to oust Schooley was abandoned.

In the public hearing only a few brief remarks were made concerning the budget. Schooley, who said that several minor items had been eliminated from the original budget draft and that there would be no correction for the town meeting to follow.

When Schooley completed his remarks, he called for any questions. Sternberg took the floor and directed a question to Barton, asking him to explain his budget for a "300% increase in funds for expenses."

Barton retorted, "We know your position on this and how you were outvoted. You have been vindictive against me ever since. A majority of the meeting was against you."

Hearing Here Today

A resolution offering Granite City's assistance in securing adequate protection at the hazardous Maryville road rail crossing off Route 203 was presented yesterday afternoon to the organization for Community Action.

The presentation was made on the front steps of the city hall by Mayor Partney to Mrs. Juanita Barnes, chairman of the citizens committee, following a protest caravan in which about 30 persons with 14 autos took part. The caravan formed at the rail crossing and proceeded into Granite City.

A copy of the resolution is to be presented to representatives of the Illinois Commerce Commission, who are meeting here this afternoon at the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce office with members of the citizens committee. The group also is to inspect the crossing.

GC Man Killed In Crash On Bridge

Eight Persons Hurt
In Five Other Mishaps
Occurring This Week

A Granite City man was killed on McKinley Bridge and eight other persons were injured in five of ten accidents occurring in the Quad-City area since Monday.

A Granite City motorist, James A. Gilliland, 38, of 5445 Maryville road, was killed about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday when his auto crashed into an abutment at the west end of the bridge structure on McKinley Bridge.

Gilliland, owner of the General Auto Parts Co. in St. Louis, was alone in the car and was traveling east when the crash occurred. He was thrown out of the auto and was crushed between the car and the wreckage of the 1960 car and a section of the bridge railing. A large section of the railing was badly damaged.

Venice police said a tow truck had to be called to pull the car off the railing so Gilliland could be freed. Gilliland was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Gilliland was a native of Essex, Mo., and lived in St. Louis before moving to Granite City about five months ago.

Survivors include two children, William, 16, and Kathy, 6, both of St. Louis; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gilliland of Pleasant, Mo.; and a sister, Mrs. Dee Ganner of St. Charles, Mo.

Services are to be conducted Saturday afternoon at a St. Louis funeral home with burial to take place at Friedens Cemetery, St. Louis.

Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Mrs. Edna M. Smith, 51, with cuts to her left knee, Linda Daubach, 12, of East St. Louis, with multiple abrasions to her face and knees. Smith was treated for lacerations to his forehead and was released.

Passenger Injured
Ernest Morgan, 24, of 208 Kirkpatrick Homes, suffered minor injuries when an auto in which he was riding, driven by Robert Anderson, 4035 Breckenridge lane, struck the right front of a car owned by Novella Currier, 537 N. Main road, parked in front of her home at 1:50 a.m. today. Anderson said the gas pedal had stuck, and when he reached down to loosen it, he lost control of his car.

'Vision' Shows Hiding Place of Stolen Loot

James T. Henningsway, 1127 Logan street, Venice, reported to police yesterday morning the theft of a bag of copper scrap from a shed at the rear of his home, but he didn't need help to solve the crime.

Henningsway called the police department again a short time later to report that he had recovered the copper from the shed a short distance from his home.

"I was standing in my back yard," Henningsway told Patrolman Jack Fields, "when a vision came to me and I could see the place where the bag was hidden. It was a shed just down the street and I went there. I found the copper under a pile of junk, just as the vision showed me."

Police did a little investigating on their own and identified a 14-year-old boy as a suspect in the theft. Police were to question the boy today.

Council to Meet Monday to Hire Sewer Plant Supt.

Granite City still is searching for a superintendent for its new sewage treatment plant which is scheduled to go into operation in June, and a special meeting of the city council will be held Monday night to consider two applicants.

The council this week had voted to hire a St. Joseph, Mo., man, Joseph W. Larson, 34, but late that night a telegram was received from Larson stating that he would not be able to accept the job here.

Larson had been interviewed last week by Alderman Moore, chairman of the council's Special Pollution committee, at Kansas City. "He seemed to be anxious for the job then," Moore said.

The chairman added that the telegram message from Larson was waiting for him when he arrived home from Monday night's council session.

City officials telephoned Larson Tuesday but were unable to reach him. "His wife's only explanation was that the family had decided not to make the move."

The city has allocated about $500 a year salary for the post. Larson's salary was to have included a $30 monthly allowance for his personally-owned pickup truck which was equipped with special testing machines. This added allowance was expected Monday night by Alderman Bartosik.

Rate Ordinance Amended
Council members also voted approval of two amendments to the rate ordinance for the sewage treatment plant—establishing a 50-cent per cubic foot rate for each unit of a multiple-family structure. The second change extends to 30 days the time interval in which the controller would file a lien against property where the owner is 10 days delinquent in paying the $2.70 quarterly rental charge.

Under the original ordinance, owners of apartment houses were to pay a sewage treatment charge based on water consumption. The amendment sets a 90-cent charge per month for each unit.

Charges for industrial and commercial users of treatment plant facilities were not changed. They remain at 22 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 30,000 cubic feet; 20 cents per cubic foot for the next 30,000 cubic feet; 16 cents per cubic foot for the next 30,000 cubic feet; 12 cents per cubic foot for the next 30,000 cubic feet; 8 cents per cubic foot for the next 1,000,000 cubic feet and one-cent a cubic foot for all over 1,000,000 cubic feet.

Congressman Melvin Price in a letter to the council advised that the Washington office of the Housing and Urban Development Agency is in the process of reviewing the city's application for a grant of $1,500,000 federal tax funds for construction of sanitary sewers in sections of the city and for a storm water drainage interceptor for the older section of the city.

The city also received notice from the state Sanitary Water Board that the application for the federal grant was endorsed by the state agency.

MORE ABOUT Industrial Street Improvement

A letter was read from Avery Schermer, president of Schermer Brothers food store, verifying an offer to finance repaving of two blocks of 12th street between Madison and Grand avenues as a "first-class street" required for business purposes.

He offered to pay half of the cost now and the rest in a ten-year period. The council approved the proposal. The city engineer is preparing plans and cost estimates and the legal department was instructed to draw the necessary papers.

Third Ward Alderman Ray Kosielek noted that an increased number of dogs is roaming city streets in violation of a city ordinance, and suggested an enforcement campaign to be linked with the city's coming cleanup-day campaign to be conducted after Mother's Day.

He asked the cooperation of residents in keeping their pets off the street, adding, "We don't want to start a drastic program."

Woman Falls on Sidewalk
Mrs. Marie Higgins, 55, of 2023 Iowa street, reported to police that she tripped and fell on a sidewalk at 20th street and Grand avenue at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. She was taken by her husband to St. Elizabeth Hospital for x-rays to her knees and arms which had abrasions.

Man Fined $50, Costs
Herschel Hicks, 2223 Washington avenue, was arrested at 11 a.m. Wednesday on deceptive practice charges and was fined a total of $50 plus $10 costs.

bers on the board voted in favor of the increase, so take your argument to them."

Sternberg replied that "I asked you a civil question and would like an answer."

"Don't try to answer me," Barton said. "I don't have to answer you, Barton."

"Then I take it that you don't want to answer my question," Sternberg responded. Sternberg then asked about an increase for the assessor's operational expenses from $16,000 to $18,000 in the new budget, requesting Barton to explain his method of determining the amount of the increase. Barton replied that there is a quadrannual real estate assessment to be taken next year and that additional money will be needed.

Sternberg again asked how the assessor's budget was figured. Barton replied again that "I don't have to answer you."

Mayor Donald Barney stepped in to mediate and asked Barton if the $18,000 budget would "cover all salaries next year."

Barney said that the quadrannual assessment coming up, these expenses could run as much as $20,000," Barney said. He asked Barton again if the $18,000 budget would "cover all salaries next year."

Barney referred the mayor's question to a woman clerk who replied that it would. First test of strength in the opening of the town meeting at 2 p.m. came with the selection of a moderator. Two nominations were made, Alderman Nonn and William Beatty, Granite City attorney and a member of the city's executive committee.

Reports had been circulated that Nonn was heading a movement to remove Schooley as town attorney through an amendment to the routine resolution passed in every town meeting providing for appointment of a new attorney. Reports indicated later that the movement was abandoned when Nonn could not muster cent charge per month for each unit.

At the same time, the other factor played a part in the meeting, headed by Sternberg and Mayor Barney who attempted to cover the expense account for Barton to the original $50 per month that prevailed before the council acted to up the expenses account to $200 per month.

Following election of Beatty as moderator, William Beatty, executive secretary of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, introduced a resolution, which was approved for the appointment of a town attorney, authorizing the township supervisor, Nelson Hagauer, to make such appointment.

Hagauer did not announce an appointment during the meeting. Beatty also introduced a resolution, which was passed, setting the time of annual town meetings held hereafter at 7 p.m. instead of 2 p.m., because of the large number of persons who are employed and are unable to attend mid-afternoon sessions. The resolution pointed out that a much greater number of electors would be able to attend a meeting at night than during the afternoon.

The resolution authorizing the appointment of a town attorney also fixed the attorney's salary at $150 per month, up $30. Another resolution also was approved, fixing the per diem fee of the town clerk at $10 per day for all meetings at which he served.

Seeks Reduction
As discussion opened on the budget and appropriation, David Partney, son of Mayor Partney, attacked Barton's expense account of $2400 per year as "an outrage" and moved that the expense allowance be reduced to the original $600, as it was before the council acted in favor of the $1800 increase.

Sternberg pointed out that the increase was voted in an attempt to make up for Barton's failure to file his application for a salary increase within the specified 30 days. He said that the situation since has been reviewed and the town board's action now was considered an improper way to provide a salary increase.

Nonn and the faction backing Barton, contended the expense account should stand at $200 to provide the $8000 annual salary to which, he contended, Barton was entitled. Kenneth H. Hargreaves, who also supported Barton, asked if a salary increase could be provided in the Tuesday town meeting to eliminate the discord over the assessor's expense account. Schooley replied that legally it could not, but such an increase had to be made by the town board in accordance with state laws.

The People's Watch Hargreaves maintained that the expense account increase had been approved by electors at last year's town meeting and that "it is what the people intended."

Peach and Apple Blossom Dates Nearing in Area

A sure sign of approaching spring can now be seen throughout Illinois orchards as fruit buds begin to swell and open in a beautiful display of floral colors according to the Illinois State Horticultural Society.

Peach blossoms are already in abundance in southern Illinois around Anna and Carbondale and will appear in central Illinois orchards around April 12-15. Depending upon weather conditions, the weeks of April 9 and April 16 should still see a number of peach orchards in bloom in the southern half of Illinois.

Apple blossoms generally follow peach bloom by two weeks. If normal weather conditions prevail, the following bloom schedule can be followed: southern half of Illinois—April 15-20; central Illinois—April 23-26; and northern Illinois—April 26-29.

For blossom hunters, there are a number of fruit production areas to visit. The larger section can be found around Carbondale, Centralia, Belleville, all of Calhoun and Jersey counties. Other growing areas can be easily located near Mt. Carmel, Martinsville, Georgetown, Bloomington, Greenville, Carleville, Griggsville, Peoria and Springfield.

To date, Illinois growers have had no winter injury to their apple or peach crop. There are approximately 350 commercial fruit growers in Illinois with a combined total of one and one-half million peach and apple trees. Normal production is approximately 2.5 million bushel apples and 800,000 bushel peaches.

How to Help Easter Lilies

Last at Home

With good home care, you can expect potted Easter lilies to hold their blooms for several weeks, especially if you buy the plants from a reliable florist.

Maintain the plant in a moderately cool, draft-free place.

See that the plant has adequate drainage. Most plants received from the florist do have. If the pot is wrapped in water-proof material, such as aluminum foil or cellophane, don't let water accumulate in the bottom. Saucers placed under plants to catch drainage water should be emptied promptly.

Water the plant as it needs it.

Aim at a moderate soil moisture content—neither waterlogged nor bone-dry. Each time you water the plant, give it enough water to soak the entire soil ball, not just the top inch or two. If excess water drips through the drainage hole, you can be fairly certain that you are adding enough water. Once the soil is thoroughly moistened, don't water again until it begins to dry out.

Keep the plant in moderately bright light, but out of direct sunlight.

If you buy lilies from a source other than a florist shop, you may find the golden yellow anthers (tiny fuzzy balls containing pollen) still inside the blossoms. It's wise to remove these anthers just as soon as you can get at them easily. This process helps to prevent discoloration of the blossoms. And it also helps to prevent premature closing of the blossoms due to accidental pollination.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 4 Thurs., April 7, 1966

Frequently Easter lily bulbs will produce a few flowers again in late summer. Here is one way to attempt to get second blossoms: After the plant has finished blooming, keep it in a sunny window and continue watering until the foliage begins to ripen. Then withhold water and dry off completely. In May, knock the bulb out of the pot and plant outside in a sunny, well-drained bed at a depth of about six inches.

Cleaning Steam Iron

How may a steam iron be cleaned to remove mineral deposits? Use a mixture of equal parts of vinegar and distilled water. Fill the steam iron tank with this cleaning solution. Allow the mixture to steam out of the iron. Rinse twice with distilled water to flush out the iron thoroughly. Let the iron cool before using it. To remove any odor of vinegar, leave it out in the open overnight.

Is there anything that can be done to clean the sole plate on a steam iron?

Yes. To clean off such substances as burned-on starch, rub the iron over a small amount of salt or waxed paper. Small pits marks from improper storage or non-distilled water can be removed with pumice powder and a soft buffing pad.

Nitrogen Application Rates Suggested

Most farmers have made their plans for fertilizing their 1968 corn crop, based on soil tests, experience and information gained at meetings, reading circulars magazine articles and talking with extension people, fertilizer salesmen and other farmers.

Assuming the land is well limed and the phosphorus and potash needs are supplied according to soil tests, the chief consideration is the amount of nitrogen to apply.

The most profitable application rate for nitrogen will depend on your cropping system, amount of manure you have, and the kind of job you do in growing corn.

Following a good legume soil or 10 tons of manure, the rate of nitrogen will usually supply enough nitrogen for 90 to 100 bushels of corn. If you are aiming for 100 to 125 bushels, you will need to apply 50 to 70 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Probably 50 pounds per acre is about the minimum that is economical. At lower rates the application cost becomes too high in relation to the cost of the crop. For light-colored timber soils, as much as 70 pounds of nitrogen may be applied.

Following soybeans, a small grain (no catch crop), or one year of corn in a farming system that includes a legume hay crop or catch crop once in 5 or 6 years, the suggested rate is 70 to 100 pounds of nitrogen on the dark prairie soils and 100 to 120 pounds on light-colored timber soils. Apply the lower rate in either case on soils that will average with good management 70 to 80 bushels. The higher rate is suggested for superior management on soils with average yields in the 90 to 105 bushel range. These soils will produce 140 to 150 bushels in the best years without uneconomically heavy rates of fertilizers.

For corn in a continuous corn or corn-soybean grain farming system, such intensive cropping systems should be limited to nearly level, non-erosive silt loams or sandy loams, although silty clay loams may permit intensive cropping with heavy fertilization and reduced tillage. For most economical production, 100 to 150 pounds of nitrogen per acre will be required. The lower rate may be adequate on very dark soils where the long-term average yield with good management is 85 to 90 bushels per acre. Yields are lower on these dark level to depressional silty clay and clay loams than on the better drained silt loams and therefore they will not return a profit with as heavy a rate of nitrogen.

Rates of 150 pounds per acre will increase the nitrogen content of residues returned to the soil, and this extra nitrogen will increase the amount that the soil can supply for the next corn crop.

Inventory Garden Needs

The gardening season is just around the corner, so inventory your garden needs for plants, seeds, supplies and equipment.

Buy clean, viable, disease-free seed. Most seed from reliable seed companies will meet these specifications. Consult the catalogs of several companies so that you can have a wide selection of varieties and types of vegetables. The revised Circular 822, Illinois Garden Guide, lists varieties recommended for the state and gives other gardening tips.

Seed should be treated to kill disease organisms on the surface of the seed and to prevent seed decay and damping-off. You'll save time and effort if you buy seed that is already treated. The seed package will specify what kind of treatment the seed has received.

Some vegetables do best when they are started indoors and then transplanted into a garden. Growing transplants lengthens your gardening enjoyment. The plants should be healthy, stocky, medium-sized, disease- and insect-free, with good roots. Avoid using plants that are tender, yellow, spindly or too large. Do not use plants that have spots on the leaves, brown lesions on the stems or knots on the roots.

Get plants in containers—pots, flats or boxes—so that root systems are intact. Your plants should not be disturbed any more than necessary. Have all your equipment and tools ready before you begin to work the soil. A hoe, spade, garden rake, trowel, measuring stick and planting line are essential for all gardens. Every gardener needs a good duster or sprayer to control garden pests. Either a duster or sprayer has enough force to drive the pesticide into the center of the plant.

Obtain fertilizers, insecticides and fungicides early so that you'll have them when you need them. You may also want to include such supplies as stakes, mulching material, plant protectors and pots.

Groundhog Control

Many farmers are using gas cartridges from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to control groundhogs this spring. Three demonstrations of using the cartridges held in the county last week were attended by 160 farmers.

Permits from the county conservation officer are required to purchase the cartridges. Permits and cartridges are available at the farm adviser's office. It is important, of course, that directions for using the cartridges be carefully followed.

Five Madison county 4-H members were presented jackets at the recent annual meeting of the Madison Service Company as awards in the X-tra Yield Corn Contest sponsored by FS Service. In cooperation with the Extension Service.

They were Kenneth Balsters, Bethalto 4-H club; Kenneth Groetendin, Pin Oak; Ronald and Raymond Henke, DeCamp Miners and Fred Schaefer of the Liberty Prairie 4-H club. Kenneth Balsters had the highest yield, 151 bu. per acre on five acres.

Dry Weather and Wheat

Some wheat fields, mostly in the southwestern part of the county, have deteriorated in the past week, chiefly because of the dry weather. Some damage is also due, as in most years, to soil-borne mosaic disease. Several good rains in early April would be a great help to wheat, new seedlings of alfalfa and clover and supply needed soil moisture in advance of spring planting.

The 1968 Illinois Cattle Feeders Day will be held on Thursday, April 14, at the University of Illinois, Urbana. The morning program will consist of various research reports about high-area supplements, fortifying corn silage with urea, all-concentrate rations, controlling insects, and other important cattle feeding information. The afternoon program will be a panel discussion by three Illinois cattle feeders who will be a panel discussion by three Illinois cattle feeders who will describe how they handle their cattle for the most profit.

Never refuse a good offer in the game of life—it may be the opportunity you seek.

In an argument make it a point to listen to reason—and reason while listening.

Trojans Lose to Eagles; Face Dupo Tigers Today

Madison's Trojans dropped their second Midwestern Conference baseball contest of the season at Dupo Monday afternoon in a 3-1 battle.

The Trojans were slated to play yesterday afternoon, but their game at Dupo was rescheduled for today at 1 p.m. due to cold weather.

The Trojans scored their lone run Monday in the top half of the fourth inning after Louis Ratliff singled to open the frame. After a Bethalto error on a force play at second put runners on first and second base for Madison, Alton Rendell smashed a sharp single, driving in Ratliff. Catcher Steve Shipoff walked, and the Trojans had the bases loaded with no outs. But Greg Wasyiak struck out, and there was a force play at home and an interference call on a Madison base runner to end the inning.

The Trojans had men on second and third in the fifth inning, but could not get them across the plate.

Coach Earl McClanahan said, "We played a good defensive game; those two errors didn't hurt us at all. What happened was we couldn't get the hit when we needed it."

GC Army Depot Gets Supplies to Vietnam in 144 Hours

Increased activities at the Army Depot to give 144-hour delivery service of vital supplies to Vietnam were outlined yesterday by Col. Charles B. Schweitzer, depot commander, who was speaker at a special U. S. Savings Bond drive kick-off luncheon.

The meeting was for executives and managers of 20 Quad-City area industrial plants and was called by N. R. Brink, chairman of the A. O. Smith Corp., plant, who is heading the 1966 Quad-City area campaign, which will start in May and mark the 25th anniversary of Series E Bonds.

Col. Schweitzer explained the readiness of the depot to meet the demands of armed forces in southeast Asia, and the revival of the "Red Ball Express" of world war II fame.

Red Ball Express
"Red Ball Express is used to supply parts for equipment in Vietnam which is inoperable due to mechanical breakdown. Occasionally, the depot will move parts from equipment in storage to meet the requirement," he said.

"Today, a Red Ball Express requisition has the highest priority. Within 144 hours after the demand is made in Vietnam, the supplies are required to be in the hand of the requisitioner."

"The depot is allowed a maximum of 16 hours to have the items available for shipment. This action has been accomplished here within 4 to 8 hours."

The depot received a Red Ball Express incident in which the requirement was for an engine from a bulldozer.

"Since these are not kept in stock, it was necessary to bring the bulldozer from the warehouse to the depot, remove the engine, place the necessary preservatives on it, box it and then ship it air freight. The depot received the request at 4 p.m., and the engine was on its way that night."

During 1965, there were 933 depot employees living in the Quad-Cities and there total income, before taxes, was $4,583,376. Col. Schweitzer said the depot will reach an operating budget of $25,000,000, of which $12,000,000 will be wages.

He placed a value of one billion dollars on the actual value of stock at the depot, ranging from boats and bridging equipment to stores for civil defense shelters.

Shipments from the depot are going out around-the-clock. In the past three months the total was 4665 tons.

Col. Schweitzer recalled a dramatic example of priority shipment for 42 bulldozers early this year.

"We received a telephone call at 4 o'clock on a Thursday afternoon, stating that it was necessary to modify and ship 42 bulldozers to the west coast immediately."

"As soon as they arrived, we made the necessary arrangements with manufacturers in the metropolitan area to partially fabricate certain needed metal shapes. As they were delivered to the depot, we drilled the necessary holes and did the necessary welding before being modified."

"As luck would have it, the weather skidded down to a frigid 10 degrees below zero. Since the repair shops were full and it would be difficult to make these modifications in the open, two bulldozers each were placed in a flat car, and then two flat cars at a time were switched into our roundhouse, where the modification was applied."

"At the same time, the blocking and banding crews were working on the lashing of the bulldozers to the flat cars before they were switched to the round house."

"I am very proud to report that by Sunday noon, these bulldozers were sitting in our rail classification yard ready for movement to the west coast."

Major Supply Point

Col. Schweitzer pointed out the depot with its 900 acres has been a major supply point for military forces since 1942, and that another part of its major mission is to rebuild equipment for all Department of Defense agencies.

He added that the depot and the employees participate regularly in community activities, such as the United Fund campaign, and the U. S. Savings Bond payroll savings program.

The theme of the luncheon was to stress the importance of participation in the Savings Bond program.

Brink said, "Through buying U. S. Savings Bonds we are able to participate directly in the support of our nation and certainly this 25th anniversary year seems most appropriate to conduct a unified savings bond campaign. Commemorating the 25th anniversary of Series E bonds, a special birthday cake was cut. Participating in the ceremony were Brink, Col. Schweitzer, John R. Hundley, vice-president, personnel at Granite City Steel Co., and Harry C. Wood, deputy director for the U. S. Treasury Savings Bond Division. The luncheon was hosted by the steel firm."

MORE ABOUT Population

"precise reason for such a shift in population age groupings can only be established by further studies."

The working groups of 35 or older show no major changes in either of the two counties, indicating a degree of stability for this age group.

"To make a determination of the reason for the exodus from St. Clair county and for the influx into Madison county, and to further extend this into the future to get some meaning and value from these statistics would require further study in the area of population migration," the report points out.

The report adds that the number of births increased in all major population areas in the two counties and increased in the area as a whole. Declines were noted in only two counties in Madison county and four in St. Clair county. In all cases except one—that of Wood River—both communities are those surrounding industrial areas where inward mobility of families in the child-bearing ages is less.

Statistics also bear out two other major facts, the report states—first, a reluctance of persons to move from the city of St. Louis into the bi-county area of Madison and St. Clair, and, secondly, movement within the two-county area has been predominantly intra-county, rather than inter-county.

Need High Speed Access

The reluctance to move into the two-county area from St. Louis—which is apparent from data up to 1960—is one of the most important factors to be considered in development of the two-county area, the report continues.

"Since 1960, two major interstate highways have been constructed (Interstate Routes 55-70 and 270) and are now in the process of being connected to Missouri Interstate Highway routes which emanate from St. Louis and St. Louis county," it adds.

Difficulty in high-speed passenger car transportation to and from St. Louis and the industry in the cities of the Illinois area along the Mississippi have been two important factors which may have discouraged residential development in central and eastern Madison and St. Clair counties.

But, the report states, "the factors have been changing since 1960. High speed access to the very soon be available through and around river cities and industrial areas."

"These changes will materially affect mobility in the area and perhaps shift much of the residential building emphasis from the west fringes of St. Louis county to Madison and St. Clair counties."

Nameoki Township Electors Debate 3½ Hours, Then Approve Budget, Up $950

Residents of Nameoki township turned out in force Tuesday night in a "grass roots" bid to trim the 1966-67 township budget, but after three and a half hours of hectic arguments approved the new budget, appropriation and tax levy as originally drawn and added $950.

A standing-room-only attendance of more than 300 persons overflowed the Nameoki township highway garage to take part in the annual town meeting which is required by state statute to obtain approval by town electors of appropriations and tax levies for the town fund, general assistance fund, road and bridge fund and special funds. The effort to cut the budget, principally through elimination of a special hard road fund carrying a tax rate of 18.7 cents per $100 valuation, was made by a delegation of residents spearheaded by Michael Ropac, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development of Nameoki township. The Citizens' group has been working several months in an organized effort to cut expenses in Nameoki township.

While the citizens' group was defeated by narrow margins on the first two major issues to come up—the selection of their own moderator and the elimination of a special hard road fund—it eventually succeeded in pushing through a series of amendments calling for an audit of the 1965-67 township funds and a managerial survey and audit requiring the town board to select one of three specified auditing firms.

Seek Citizens Committee
Still another resolution calling for appointment of a five-man citizens' committee to study the budget was passed, but the moderator, Dan McGrew of State Park, declined the appointment and named all five members of the Nameoki town board.

As the meeting got under way at 7 p.m., the large attendance was taken as an indication of majority strength for the citizens group, but this was disproved in the first order of business. The group lost an attempt to name the moderator for the meeting by a standing vote of 142 to 114, which constituted a test of strength for the citizens group and the delegation of other residents of the township administration.

Ropac nominated John Mullen, a school teacher, as moderator, while Herbert Polley, a member of the town board of auditors, nominated McGrew, a tavern operator.

Immediately after the standing vote gave the chairmanship to McGrew, Ropac proposed "more than 30 people" had entered the meeting while the vote was being taken. McGrew told the chair. McGrew first named a committee of two persons to check each faction to make vote counts on subsequent issues, consisting of Ropac and Philip Theis, an attorney, representing the Citizens' group, and Polley and Harold Massa, representing the so-called township group.

The minutes of the last town meeting in April a year ago were approved without discussion. McGrew then called on Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, who introduced the most important issue of the meeting—a motion to approve continuation of the special hard road fund which provides a maximum tax rate of 18.7 cents per $100 valuation. The township has had the fund for the last five years, but state law required an election to vote on continuing the fund and tax levy.

Ropac Challenges Move
Ropac challenged the move to reinstate the fund because of the five-year stipulation, and asked if it could be voted from year-to-year with a tax levy limited to the amount of the money needed, rather than the maximum rate for a five-year period. Nick Vasileff, township attorney, replied pointed out that the maximum rate is not necessarily used from year to year, but is established to permit the township to extend cases that might be needed up to that maximum.

Ropac then asked why so much money was needed, in addition to the regular road and bridge fund "plus motor fuel tax money which is separate," and asked for figures on the amount of motor fuel tax money that had been spent by the township within the past year.

"You have been checking up on this, and I believe you should have the figures yourself," Vasileff responded.

Ropac said the citizens group had made two calls to Springfield and several to the county highway department at Edwardsville, but he repeated his request for figures from the township.

"We don't have them right here," Vasileff said, "but the clerk can check the records and get them for us. It will take some time, so if you will tell us whom you talked to and their information was, it can save some time."

Ropac replied that "we're not here to cut throats. We're here to know where it is being spent and how much is being spent."

all municipal bodies working on this point Mrs. Ropac spoke up and said the group had checked Springfield and the county and that vouchers were taken and the motion carried substantially.

Approval of the budget and appropriation moved with a minimum of discussion until an item was read for payment of insurance premiums. At this point Charles Gausen asked town officials why insurance was not obtained by bidding. Gausen asked Briggs what insurance firm now has the township business.

"The Fijan-Maerz Agency," Briggs replied.

Shouts of "sure," "yes, man," and "certainly," rippled through the crowd.

Gausen said he thought the township could save money by obtaining insurance through bidding, and Briggs said that so long as the township could obtain comparable, or cheaper, insurance premiums, he had no objection to this. Gausen then moved that bids be called on insurance as present policies expired, and Briggs said that so long as the township could obtain comparable, or cheaper, insurance premiums, he had no objection to this. Gausen then moved that bids be called on insurance as present policies expired, and Briggs said that so long as the township could obtain comparable, or cheaper, insurance premiums, he had no objection to this.

The meeting then continued to approve the town fund budget and appropriation of $45,970, general assistance appropriation of $32,043, the special hard road fund appropriation of $46,477 plus $944 for municipal retirement costs, and the regular road and bridge appropriation of $40,085 plus $3150 for municipal retirement.

At this point William Gary, an accountant, introduced a resolution calling for an audit of all town funds for the 1965-66 years, accompanied by a managerial survey which would include a generation of efforts and unnecessary reports.

Use Special Ballots
Specially printed paper ballots with "yes" and "no" boxes on the proposition were circulated. A lengthy discussion on the qualifications for voting ensued with the citizens group contending that only registered voters could ballot on the proposition. Vasileff referred to the state statute and said to the crowd that qualifications for voting in town meetings specifies voting is by "electors" rather than registered voters. This meant, Vasileff interpreted, that all persons meeting in addition to the usual requirements were eligible to vote.

Ballots were circulated and collected by the representatives of both groups. The proposition carried 172 to 137. Loss of the usual hard road fund, which strength by the citizens' group to pare the budget, caused a stir among the crowd and within a few minutes large numbers of persons left the meeting, cutting the attendance almost in half within a short time.

While the tellers were counting the ballots on the road fund issue, Briggs submitted a resolution calling for an addition of $950 to the budget and appropriation of the same to the township contribution to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission which is seeking municipal contributions to pay a $200,000 deficit in administration costs.

Vasileff pointed out that the town board of auditors is elected for the specific purpose of auditing town funds and that such a resolution of usurping the power of the town board.

Central Auto Salvage Center is Proposed

A proposal to set up a centralized depot for dismantling wrecked autos, with all Madison county auto salvage dealers participating, was proposed Tuesday night to 12 jury operators by Zoning Administrator Jack Clifford.

The suggestion was presented by Clifford as one possible solution to problems created by large salvage yards over which hundreds of autos are sprawled. The 12 operators who attended the Western Illinois Auto Dismantlers Association.

Clifford said a plan could be formulated for a tract of 500 to 1000 acres to be used exclusively for dismantling wrecked autos with by products being channeled from there. Under the plan each dealer would maintain a parts distribution point at his own location, but one dismantling crew would handle the stripping at the centralized point instead of each salvage dealer maintaining his own crew.

Dealers expressed various reactions. Several contended that it would be almost impossible to determine whose parts were whose, and that each automobile is its own warehouse and record as to model and type to identify parts demanded by customers.

Chouteau Twp. Cuts Levies for $98,830 Budget

Chouteau township reduced its tax levies for town and general assistance funds by more than $3500 while adopting budgets and appropriation ordinances totaling $98,830, or $2145 more than the previous year. The action was taken during the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon at the township hall.

Tax levies were $18,420 for the town fund, down $1650 from the old levy, and $10,100 for the relief fund, or $1900 less than a year ago.

Proposals in the tentative budgets remained unchanged at the meeting which was attended by 12 electors.

The budget for the town fund was set at $21,000, up $745; the relief fund budget was $25,230, the same; the road and bridge fund budget was $43,600, up $400; and the budget for the buildings and equipment fund was $9000, up $1000.

Tax Anticipation

It was expected that the road and bridge fund would require loans totaling $15,000 through tax anticipation warrants this year. Last year, $20,000 in tax anticipation warrants were issued. The road and bridge fund levy is about the same as the amount budgeted.

Cash balance permitted the cut in the two tax levies according to financial statements read by Joseph Troeckler, township supervisor.

Per diem rates for town auditors remained at $15 per day with a total of $1300 budgeted for the amount, while compensation for township officers were approved at $1000 for the supervisor, $1800 for the clerk, $2600 for the highway commissioner and $3000 for the supervisor of general assistance.

Veteran Moderator

George Warnecke of Mitchell was re-elected to serve as moderator of the meeting for the 13th consecutive year.

It was a routine meeting, and there were no "may" votes recorded in the adoption of the budgets and the levies. No special issues or comments were introduced, in comparison to last year when electors voiced opinions about the condition of the roads and a final deadline for filing petitions for election was set.

Wayne Sanderson Selected For Safety Patrol Honors

Wayne Sanderson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Sanderson, 2816 Forest avenue, has been chosen to represent Granite City at the 30th annual National School Safety Patrol Parade on May 14 in Washington, D. C., according to Mayor Donald Parise. Wayne is a safety patrol boy at Wilson school.

The local selection was made through an essay contest among patrol members in the Granite City school system. The Granite City Optimist Club's Youth Committee, headed by William Harris, served as the judges.

Wayne will join 25 other safety patrol members from Automobile Club territory for the all-expense-paid trip sponsored by the Auto Club. It is a reward to outstanding local patrol members for service in safe-guarding classmates' lives at school crossings.

The AAA, Automobile Club, Illinois Division delegation will meet in St. Louis on May 11 to board a chartered bus for the trip to the nation's capital. The group will visit historic Gettysburg, Pa., enroute, arriving in Washington the evening of May 12.

On May 13, delegates will meet their Congressmen at breakfast and then will tour the Capitol. Later they will view points of interest in and around Washington.

The group will assemble on Constitution avenue Saturday morning, May 14, for the parade. More than 30,000 school safety patrol members from around the nation will march in one of Washington's largest annual parades, featuring bands, drill teams and safety floats. The AAA Club, Illinois Division delegates will wear red helmets and jackets, and will be identified by a large banner in the parade procession.

After the parade, the group will board its bus for a trip to the White House and Mount Vernon before returning to St. Louis on Sunday morning, May 15. The entire trip will be supervised by Auto Club personnel.

Depot's Interest Lifts Parisian Girl's Spirits

A six-year-old Parisian girl is happier these days, thanks to the use of therapy, near-normal use of her legs may become possible.

Mireille Louise Palinnaci of Paris, France, received 200 birthday cards, numerous gifts and attention showered upon her and a huge decorated birthday cake on her birthday, it was announced this week.

The cards, gifts and cake were the result of a campaign conducted by Depot employees. The cake was provided by a Granite City baker, Leo B. Lipe.

Mireille is not an ordinary child. Since birth she has suffered from a lack of nerves that has impaired her ability to walk. Currently she is undergoing surgery at the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in St. Louis.

The child and her mother, Madame Simone Palinnaci, were brought here through the efforts of a U. S. Masonic representative.

Surgery to direct stimulus to the legs was performed. It is hoped that through the surgery and the use of therapy, near-normal use of her legs may become possible.

The 1966-67 budget for Venice township totaling $188,361, down $3894 from the previous year, was approved Tuesday afternoon at the annual town meeting attended only by a small group of town officials and spectators. Stanley Trakowski, 352 Greenwood street, was elected moderator.

Tax levies passed for 1966-67 listed—general assistance, $70,000; town fund, $15,618; road and bridge fund, $2,891; and IMRF, $750.

Resolutions introduced at the meeting set salary schedules for township officials as follows: highway commissioner, $250 per month; police chief, $250 per month; fire chief, $250 per month; and all other township officials, $250 per month.

—GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY—

month; township attorney, $240 annual; general town fund supervisor, $100 per month; town collector, $400, payable in a single installment Oct. 1; township assessor, $500 per month; general assistance supervisor, $450 per month; and town clerk, in lieu of other compensation or fees, $300 per month.

A per diem compensation of $15 for town officers, payable when engaged in necessary township duties, also was approved by resolution.

In a report estimating expenditures for maintenance and improving township roads, Highway Commissioner Frank Kinack cited considerable improvements needed in Eagle Park Acres, Benjamin Addition and the Choteau Slough road area.

Worthen, Dillard Endorsed by Labor

Candidates of L. Monroe Worthen, incumbent president of the Granite City school board, and Ronald Dillard, now treasurer of the board, were endorsed by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council last night in a meeting at the Granite City Hotel.

The 67 attending delegates voted the endorsement upon recommendation of the council's legislative committee which met last Saturday to hear views of the three candidates for the two school board posts. Worthen met with the committee and Dillard sent a letter answering questions put by the committee. Ed-

Madison JHS, Grade Bands to Go to State

The Madison junior high and grade school band received a first rating in the district band contest at East Alton, it was announced this week by William Ledbetter, director. The rating enables the youthful musicians to compete for state honors.

Eighteen bands from Madison county schools were entered in the contest, viewed by several hundred spectators. Prior to participating in the state meet, the 78-member Madison band will present a public concert on Thursday, April 28, at the Madison school.

Lawrence Hartman Named as Venice School Attorney

Venice school board members this week accepted the resignation of Board Attorney Harry E. Hartman of Granite City and appointed Hartman's younger brother, Lawrence, to replace him. The action was taken Monday evening at the school board's regular meeting.

The older Hartman, who also serves as Venice city and park district attorney and maintains a private law practice in Granite City, gave increased pressure of business as the reason for resigning.

He offered to continue to advise and assist the school district in matters currently under consideration.

The new board attorney, whose selection was by unanimous vote of the board, was released March 9 after three years of active duty with the Navy. He resides with his wife, Edwina, and two children, Elizabeth Ann and Lawrence Edward, at 440 Lincoln avenue, Venice.

Satisfactory Evaluation
Supt. of Schools John O. Pier informed board members that satisfaction with the operation and curriculum of Venice high school was expressed by members of a visitation committee, representing the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which spent three days investigating various facets of the school.

Other comments related by the nine-member committee to Pier pertained to the cooperative attitude shown by the faculty and administrative staff. Both groups were classified in the official report as well-qualified.

Although noting and overworked condition existing in the high school building, the committee members cited excellent behavior of students during informal meetings both in and out of the classrooms.

High School Enrollment
The present Venice high school structure, built in 1917 to accommodate 75 pupils, now holds 225 students, Supt. Pier said. The facilities are expected to be further taxed in future years, he said, noting a projected enrollment of 270 high school age youngsters within the next five years.

At last month's meeting, the board hired Virgil Dulgeroff, local architect, to survey the building as part of Illinois School Life Safety Code requirements. The survey will determine necessary repairs and remodeling.

In earlier discussions, board members discussed erecting an addition to the high school building. The proposal later appeared impractical due to the structure's central heating plant being situated in the adjacent grade school.

Board members granted permission to the Venice Social club to hold an Easter egg hunt on the school athletic field starting at 9 a.m. Saturday for kindergarten through sixth grade children, and for use of the gymnasium from 7 to 9 p.m. each Wednesday for an exercise and volleyball class to be conducted by Mrs. Annette Ohlendorf.

Study Civil Service Course
Supt. Pier reported he has received several inquiries regarding a civil service training course, which would instruct in word study, testing procedure, filing, shorthand, typing and key-punch for persons interested in applying for government jobs.

Pier told the board he is unfamiliar with such a course, but will seek additional information.

Costs to participants possibly could be reimbursed with state funds, he said.

New Elementary Teacher
In other business, the board hired Mrs. June Hester Berry as a first grade teacher. Her husband is stationed at the Granite City Army Depot. The new teacher will be joining the faculty on March 18, is to be employed for a 54-day period at a salary of $1547.

By resolution, $4000 was transferred from the educational fund to the transportation fund.

The Venice board agreed to join with other Madison county schools in petitioning the Illinois Association of School Boards to enter a plea with the U. S. Supreme Court, appealing a $200,000 tax objection suit by 12 railroad companies operating within the county.

It was agreed to hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday to canvass Saturday's school board election.

Pay for Work at Games
Expenditures of $585 were approved Monday night from the revolving fund in paying varying amounts to Venice school teachers who were employed during basketball games.

Based on reimbursement of $5 per game, amounts earned by Venice grade school teachers totaled $230 and included individual payments to Robert Dubick, $85; Robert Blattner, $50; Clarence Hand, $30; John Tack, $35; Helen Purkale, $35; Lela Meyer and Delores Bosworth, $10 each; and Owen Dale, Rogers Davis, Helen Wheeler and Helen Pier, $5 each.

Venice high school teachers received the following: Ronald Ganschmeitz, $70; Barbara Williams, $25; Margarette Boudie, $30; Omar Butts, Gary Craig, Jack Gilmore, James Gregg and George Owens, $25 each; Georgia Fawcett, $15; Johnny Rusk, $10; and Althea Cross and Annette Ohlendorf, $5 each.

Lincoln grade school teachers were paid a total of $60, including David Kimbrell, Mattie Richard, $15 each; T. E. Savage, $10; and Linda Washington, $5.

The teachers sell and take tickets, serve as scorers and supervise conduct of children at the games.

89% Attendance
Supt. Pier reported attendance for 21 school days during March. Included were Lincoln kindergarten, 90.69%; Venice kindergarten, 90.88%; Lincoln elementary, 93.17%; Venice elementary, 93.89%; and Venice high school, 93.90%.

Monthly bills approved for payment from the educational fund totaled $14,966, including $2740, teachers' retirement system, $4664, withholding tax; $570, Edwina Foods, $524.21; J. Meats; $106, Wilson Sporting Goods, letters and supplies; $215, telephone; $237, Smith Schaff Paper Co.; paper towels; $950, Illinois Power Co.; lights and gas; $145, S. G. Adams, office bronze plaque; $183, East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co.; $1102, Venice Gas and Oil Co.; $131, C. Caver, groceries; $75, Supt. Pier, March auto expenses; $200, Dr. John E. Lee, dentist fee; and $20, Dr. J. C. Byers, physician's fee.

A total of $1740 was paid from the transportation fund to the Bi-State Transit System for school bus service during February, and $769 was paid as the board's contribution to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

Did You Ever Think of Getting Your Easter Bonnet From A&P?

We don't sell Easter bonnets but... we suspect many an Easter hat has been paid for with money saved by shopping A&P.

Are we implying that A&P has the lowest prices on all items all the time? No!

There is no store that can make that claim.

What we are saying is: if you're interested in your total food bill, if you're looking for the best values for your food dollar, A&P is the store for you.

It's a little late for this year's Easter bonnet, but start shopping A&P this week, anyway.

It won't be long before somebody in the house will need a new pair of shoes.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Request for Land By Tri-City Port Being Considered

A request by the Tri-City Regional Port Authority for lease of the old levee right-of-way owned by the East Side Levee & Sanitary District from West 203rd street to the north adjacent to the Chain of Rocks canal was taken under advisement by the Levee board at a meeting Wednesday morning.

It was explained that the port authority wants 16 or 18 acres of land for lease to truck terminals and pipe line firms and for other facilities.

Lawrence Tolar, levee board president, said it would not be in the interest of the district to permit the port authority to sub-lease the land and the Levee board would want to see any improvements or proposals for highway right-of-way.

The request is to be discussed with port board members at the next meeting of the levee board in May.

Income for District
William M. Ebersold, trustee from Venice, noted that "we're talking about getting an income for the district," and it could be in the interest of the district to handle such lease matters.

Considering income for the district, Tolar proposed a revenue bond issue to construct an apartment complex on unused, if the hillside drainage project fails to become a fact.

Soil Bank Leases
During the meeting it was disclosed that persons who farm Levee district land on "maintenance leases" are placing some of the land in the federal soil bank, and some Madison county farmers are getting as high as $156 an acre for land they do not own.

Ebersold suggested that policies on such leases be revised, and that all farmers involved be called to the board office for a review of the leases.

The matter was discussed after it was learned that the Khouri baseball league had requested use of a tract in the East St. Louis area for a diamond but that a farmer, who had a continuing maintenance lease, had already cultivated and seeded the ground for a crop.

A legal opinion showed that a four-month notice of termination of a lease would be required by the board before it could take the property.

Service Drive Approved
The board granted permission to Arthur McFarland, brick contractor, to place a service drive over a Levee district sewer line at a housing and business development to be established south of Pontoon road and east of Holiday Gardens. A fill over the sewer will be required.

A request from the Illinois Highway division for dirt from surplus levees for use in the area of Interstate 270 and Route 203 was referred to A. D. Kraemer, chief engineer.

Location of the dirt wanted was not specified, but Ebersold believed it could be ground dredged from the drainage canal in the Horseshoe lake area. He added that the canal area could be leveled and beautified.

Also discussed was a preliminary proposal for a grant of federal tax funds to extend a sewer trunk line to serve the Alorton, Midway and Signal Hill areas to the Cahokia treatment plant, if such extension is shown to be feasible.

Water Tunnel
The board called a meeting with the Corps of Engineers and the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. to discuss responsibility of strengthening or replacing a water company tunnel which could cause flooding if it should fail, especially in times of high river levels in the East St. Louis area.

It was shown that a lease granted to the utility in 1901 outlined the responsibilities of the company in maintaining the tunnel, but that the Levee district could be held liable in case of flood. The project would cost about $100,000, according to the chief engineer.

Kraemer reported that he is awaiting a reply from the State Highway division on a suggestion concerning a state request to install parallel 36-inch and 48-inch storm sewers on Prime avenue from Nameoki road to Pontoon road leading to the district drainage ditch.

City Laterals
He noted the city of Granite City, if it institutes a new sewer system, would be interested in lateral connection privileges to the highway sewer, and if the state agreed, permission would be granted for the parallel sewers.

Ebersold arranged to have

Easter Parties Held For Pre-Schoolers

Youngsters who attend pre-kindergarten classes, sponsored by the Granite City park district, took part in a series of Easter parties this week at the park district's community center, 822 Niedringhaus avenue. More than 100 children participated, including 37 visiting youngsters.

Arrangements for the parties were made by mothers of the pre-schoolers, assisted by Mrs. Ruby Mayberry, Mrs. Carol Chappell and Miss Cheryl Oranhood, who supervise the district program.

Seventy-six mothers visited Easter egg hunts, with the children collecting eggs in decorated baskets, provided by the park district.

district personnel conduct a tour of the Venice pumping station during Student Government Day at Venice high school on April 20.

The board was asked by Mayor Alvin Fields of East St. Louis to furnish supervision and consider hiring a job corps worker in the war on poverty. Billy totaling $75,000, including $71,075 labor and material, for the Lansdowne treatment and sewer project were approved.

It's true — every man may have his price, but most require honest for lack of an offer.

State Capitol NEWS

Anti-Poverty Meeting

A full report of the anti-poverty program in Illinois will be presented by Thomas C. Jackson, director of the Illinois Office of Economic Opportunity, at a meeting of the Citizens' Advisory Committee April 18.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee, which recommends directions and programs for Illinois anti-poverty efforts, is comprised of five representatives from each of four categories: community leaders, business and industry, labor and the medical and legal professions.

Points for Veterans

Gov. Otto Kerner has ordered the immediate extension of preference points on merit examinations for state jobs to veterans serving on active duty in the U.S. armed services since Jan. 31, 1953. Previous to the directive, veterans preference points were available only to those who had served in the armed forces during specified periods of hostilities.

Non-disabled veterans are entitled to have five points added to their final average in entrance examinations. Disabled veterans are entitled to ten points.

Qualified veterans applying for examinations will receive points in scoring if they submit records substantiating preference.

Highway Building

Projects estimated at $33,000,000 were listed for bids to be received April 18 by the Illinois Division of Highways, Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Francis S. Lorenz, department director, said the letting will be the largest to date on the state's $166 road program. It involves 79 projects located in all areas of Illinois.

Crim Analysts Needed

A recruitment program for criminal laboratory analysts is currently being conducted by the Illinois Department of Personnel. Requirements for the positions, at the Bureau of Criminal Identification, Crime Laboratory in Joliet, may be obtained from Joseph D. Nicol, superintendent, Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, 515 E. Woodruff road, Joliet, Ill.

Trees and Nitrogen

Spreading nitrogen on the ground will result in as much tree growth as placing it in holes or using a liquid variety. That's the advice of Illinois Natural History Survey plant pathologists E. R. Himelick and Dan Neely.

During the last three years, Drs. Neely and Himelick have experimented on trees growing in Adair's salt soil in the Morris Arboretum near Chicago. They found that spreading the equivalent of six pounds of actual nitrogen per 100 square feet produced better tree-diameter growth than the growth in unfertilized trees.

Applying a combination of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium beneath the soil surface in either dry or liquid form produced greater growth than spreading nitrogen alone on the surface. Spraying fertilizers on leaves did not noticeably increase tree growth.

Health Group Meets

The Illinois Public Health Association will hold its 26th annual meeting April 13-15 at Hotel St. Nicholas in Springfield. The association of professional health workers has nearly 1200 members.

Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, and Mayor Nelson O. Howarth of Springfield, will address the opening general session.

Groundwater Team

Lyle D. McGinnis, associate geophysicist at the Illinois State Geological Survey, Urbana, departed this month on leave of absence for a one-year stay in Afghanistan. He will be part of a seven-man United Nations special fund project team investigating groundwater resources of the country.

The five-year project, sponsored by the United Nations, is aimed at organizing a groundwater section for the Afghanistan Geological Survey to aid the country in a continuing research program.

City is Critical of State's $120 Rent for Firing Range

A $120 monthly rental fee to be charged by the state for the city's use of the firing range building in Lincoln Place was bitterly opposed Monday night by the city council.

The rent notice was received from the state highway department which bought the building from the city for $36,000 for the Great River road right-of-way.

The building is not to be removed for several months, and the police department is planning to use it, expecting the rental to be about $30 or $40.

Mayor Partney was instructed to confer with higher authorities of the state to determine if the monthly charge can be reduced. It is to start May 1, and the state highway department has withheld $700 of the $8,000 payment to the city. Highway department officials said the rent figure was based on the purchase price paid for the structure.

The state's action was criticized by several aldermen, who said the highway department should be forced to comply with state laws requiring condemned houses to be razed.

It was noted several houses in the West Granite area that have been bought by the state for the road right-of-way are boarded up and are creating a hazard. Several basements along Cedar street where homes have been razed are filling with water and causing possible health problems as well as a dangerous condition, the aldermen said.

Mayor Partney was asked to inform the state of the city's requests.

Employees' Duties Debated

Duties of the city hall maintenance men, Delbert Lampher, were debated by council members, with Alderman Bartosik asking questions on supervision. Bartosik, who is chairman of the City Hall committee, said that when he asked for higher wages or for a raise, the painter to do work in the building, he always has been told by the employees, "We're busy."

"I'm setting a lot of complaints from the department heads in the building, and I'd just like to get this ironed out and know who's in charge," Bartosik commented.

He was told by several aldermen that the city hall employees have never practiced the policy of directing city employees on their jobs, since that was the duty of department heads.

"Then who's in charge of these employees at the city hall?" Bartosik asked again.

Mayor Partney replied that since he appointed the men, that he was the supervisor. "I haven't heard any complaints from the department heads, and I'd like to know about them," he added.

"Maybe they're afraid to talk to you," Bartosik answered.

Mayor Partney said that any future requests be made to his office and he would direct the employees.

Lampher's duty to supervise work of city prisoners assigned to chores in lieu of paying fines also was questioned. The matter was referred to City Atty. Allen, since there was a question that the men on the "bad state of affairs on the council," and added that he had never before seen so much "vote switching and backscratching among the aldermen."

The map was recommended by Whitmer's companion Second Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission which he was part of any clique, under its program for updating the city's master plan.

In other action, the council other clique. "This 11-to-5 clique approved an amendment for a was brought up in the newspaper change from C-1 commercial to C-2 for Harold Carver, who operates a service station at 2814 Nameoki road and plans to expand it as a garage.

Approved a resolution for installation of 154 lights of 20,000 lumens each on ornamental concrete posts along Nameoki road from Madison avenue to the north city limits.

Granted permission to F. W. Woolworth Co. to set up a flower sales stand on the sidewalk at its store prior to Easter and also prior to Mothers' Day in May.

Seven Fire Hydrants

Approved a resolution instructing the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. to install fire hydrants at the following locations: 26th street and Edison avenue, Colgate and Bradley drives, Princeton and Yale drives, Victory drive and Marshall avenue, the northwest corner of West 23rd street and Ohio avenue, and on the west side of Nameoki road at Jill avenue and also at Clark avenue.

Adopted an ordinance establishing a 50-foot, 30-inch parking zone in front of 2031 Madison avenue, a business establishment.

Granite City council members again deferred action on hiring a consulting engineer Monday night.

Two weeks ago, the recommendation by the Personnel and Street committees to hire the services of firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab was deferred; and Monday night, action on a motion to employ the St. Louis firm of Research Planning & Design was deferred.

In the interim (last week), Mayor Partney presented the appointment of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, only to have it voted down. He did not proceed with a 30-day appointment as had been the custom during the previous administration.

The motion for hiring Research Planning & Design was made Monday night by Alderman Donn Morten, and seconded by Alderman Bartosik.

Instructed the Street committee to confer with management at Union Star & Refining Co. on the possibility of working out a cooperative program for angle parking for employees' vehicles along the south side of 19th street at the plant.

Approved a recommendation by the Street committee for the department to remove a tree on private property at Michigan avenue and Benton street where a sidewalk is being damaged. The committee also was asked to inspect similar situations in the 2800 block of Lincoln avenue and at East 25th street and the old cemetery, where dead trees are on city property.

Alderman Stenberg, chairman of the Street committee, said the street department's budget for 1966-67 is nearing completion and that without any special projects, the tentative figure totals $246,000, compared to the current year's $265,000 total which included a number of special projects.

He said the completed budget for the department should be ready for presentation to the council in two weeks.

Two weeks ago, the recommendation by the Personnel and Street committees to hire the services of firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab was deferred; and Monday night, action on a motion to employ the St. Louis firm of Research Planning & Design was deferred.

In the interim (last week), Mayor Partney presented the appointment of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, only to have it voted down. He did not proceed with a 30-day appointment as had been the custom during the previous administration.

The motion for hiring Research Planning & Design was made Monday night by Alderman Donn Morten, and seconded by Alderman Bartosik.

Granite City council members again deferred action on hiring a consulting engineer Monday night.

Instructed the Street committee to confer with management at Union Star & Refining Co. on the possibility of working out a cooperative program for angle parking for employees' vehicles along the south side of 19th street at the plant.

Approved a recommendation by the Street committee for the department to remove a tree on private property at Michigan avenue and Benton street where a sidewalk is being damaged. The committee also was asked to inspect similar situations in the 2800 block of Lincoln avenue and at East 25th street and the old cemetery, where dead trees are on city property.

Alderman Stenberg, chairman of the Street committee, said the street department's budget for 1966-67 is nearing completion and that without any special projects, the tentative figure totals $246,000, compared to the current year's $265,000 total which included a number of special projects.

He said the completed budget for the department should be ready for presentation to the council in two weeks.

March Meter Fees, Fines Highest in 10-Year Era

In a concerted drive to reduce parking meter violations, Granite City police department collected a total of $2546 in fines during the first three months of the current year, an increase of 30%, over the amount collected during the same three-month period in 1965.

During March, parking meter fines amounted to $989, only $89 less than the $1078 in fines assessed during February. In January, fine collections totaled $519.

In addition, the March collection of meter fees amounted to $550, increasing to $659, the total amount of fine and fee collections for the month.

This was the largest fine and fee collection of any month since August 1961, when the combined collection was $618, and is exceeded by only one other month on record since 10 years ago. That was the collection for the month of April 1959, when fee collections were $454 and fine collections $343 for a total of $797.

March collection of both fines and fees increased to $1126, the total amount of income from parking meters during the first three months of the year. Both fine and fee collections in January, February and March of this year exceeded the collections of a year ago for the same period. This year January collection of parking meter fees amounted to $2599 with $519 in fines, compared to $2175 in fees and only $151 in fines in January a year ago.

Comparison Fees
During February, the city collected $2732 in fees and $1058 in fines for a total of $3790, compared to $2655 in fees and $1058 in fines during February, 1965, for a $2791 total.

March collection this year of $359 in fees and $989 in fines for the $1348 total compares with $3143 in fees and $218 in fines for a $3361 total in 1965.

The $2546 total of fines collected during the first three months of this year is within $195 of the overall total. Fine collection of $3611 for the 12 months of 1965, and is $6 more than the 12-month collection of 1964 amounting to $3546.

The police crackdown on parking meter violations began in last November when fines jumped to $622 from a total of $269 during October. Collections fell back to $359 during December but rose to the $519 figure in January, then to the $1058 in February and last month's $989.

Sore Throat Link To Heart Disease

Even a minor sore throat can be extremely dangerous to children, the Illinois State Medical Society warned today. Ignoring what may appear to be a "common sore throat" could cost a child his life or a lifetime of healthy living, it was noted.

So-called minor throat can be one of the early symptoms of rheumatic fever, and rheumatic fever cripples the hearts of at least 28 American children every year. It causes more deaths than polio did in its heyday, a spokesman said. "Yet, rheumatic fever can be prevented. Doctors know the cause and can destroy the germs before they get a chance to infect a child's heart."

"The real tragedy is that it has such seemingly innocent beginnings—like that 'minor' sore throat or a feeling of fatigue and muscle and joint pains which may be mistaken for what parents wrongly call growing pains."

"In its more severe stage, rheumatic fever's symptoms are sore throat, high fever, sore neck glands, and red and swollen joints. The trouble is, at this point, irreparable damage already may have been done to the heart."

"About half of those who contract 'rheumatic fever' recover without permanent damage to the heart valves. But the disease has a way of repeating itself, and the only major form of cardiovascular disease which can be prevented. Doctors can prevent streptococcus, early treatment with penicillin or other antibiotics offers an excellent chance of eliminating the potential threat of rheumatic fever."

ment of streptococcal sore throats and certain other strep infections, it was explained. "Despite this knowledge, rheumatic fever remains the No. 1 heart crippler of children, and the No. 1 killer of children between the ages of 10 and 14."

"If your youngster suffers any respiratory infection, especially a sore throat, don't hesitate to consult a doctor. "Simple tests like a throat culture and blood test can enable him to identify the germ causing the infection. And if it's the streptococcus, early treatment with penicillin or other antibiotics offers an excellent chance of eliminating the potential threat of rheumatic fever."

Easter weekend excitement for Quad-City youngsters will be ushered in Saturday with two Easter egg hunts, one at Wilson Park in Granite City beginning at 10:30 a.m., and the other at the Madison high school baseball diamond in Madison commencing at noon.

The Wilson Park hunt, annual event for the Granite City park district, will be limited to four age brackets and in view of the large participation last year the park officials request that parents and older brothers and sisters refrain from helping the youngsters, according to Park Sup. Harold Brown.

Competing for the four age bracket prizes will be youngsters in pre-school, kindergarten, first and second grades. Preschoolers will be in the area near the corner of 27th and Benton streets; kindergarten children at area number one along Benton street west of the park office drive; first-graders near the ice skating pond; and second graders will be at the corner bordering Niedringhaus school.

The hunt in Madison, also an annual affair sponsored by the Lions Club, is limited to children 12 and under, and more than $200 in candy eggs and other Easter treats has been purchased by the civic group for the event. Emmett Pavia, Madison police chief, will supervise the affair as has been his custom for several years.

A report issued by Harold O. Swank, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, said that an overall increase for the number of recipients was attributed during January. Dinner April 11 to Honor 10 Quad-City Eagle Scouts

The Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be host April 11 at a banquet for 28 young men in the council who earned the rank of Eagle Scout during 1965. It will be held at the Bel-Air East motel, St. Louis, at 8:15 p.m.

R. Martin Perkins, famed director of the St. Louis Zoological gardens and star of the television program, "Wild Kingdom," will be the featured speaker. Ten Quad-City youths will be honored.

Born in Carthage, Mo., Perkins early developed a liking for animals. His father, a circuit court judge of Jasper county, objected to his son's hobby of keeping reptiles in the basement of their home, because of their occasional odor. It was difficult for him to hire and keep mammals.

Perkins at the age of 14 went to the Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo. He finished high school at Carthage, and then attended the University of Missouri, where he studied zoology.

Foreign Travel

His education has been worldwide. In 1948, Perkins made his first journey to Africa, where he collected four young gorillas in the French Cameroons for the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago.

He has returned several times to Africa, once in 1959 to lead a camera safari across the Belgian Congo and throughout East Africa.

In 1963, he filmed the life of the bushmen in the Kalahari Desert and the multiple land use of the Ngorongoro Charter.

He has been on expeditions in Central America and on the up-

April 11, 15, Last Days For Tax Assistance

Quad-City residents are being reminded this week by central and southern Illinois District Director of Internal Revenue Jay G. Philpott that only one week remains for filing 1965 income tax returns.

The deadline is Friday, April 15.

Those mailing returns are cautioned the envelopes must be postmarked in advance of the April 15 midnight deadline, and addressed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Springfield, Illinois 62704.

As a special service to Quad-City area taxpayers who still have not filed their tax returns, internal revenue personnel will again be on hand from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the third floor of city hall in Granite City on Monday, April 11 and again April 15.

Philpott placed special emphasis on the care that should be exercised when sending in payments with returns as every year thousands of poorly or completely unidentified payments are received which cannot be properly credited to accounts.

The taxpayer's bill or notice should be attached to checks or money orders. In cases where there is no bill or notice, taxpayers should enclose a note stating the type of tax owed, year of the tax and what the payment is for, along with the taxpayer's name, address and social security number.

It is advisable, should one later be asked to substantiate tax payments, to retain money order stubs or cancelled checks.

All persons under 65 years of age who had a gross income of $600 or more during the year are required to file a return. Those who are self-employed are required to file a return if their income from self-employment was $400 or more even if the

Serving with Helicopter Anti-Submarine Patrol

Ernest M. Vizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vizer of 834 Niedringhaus avenue, has joined the Seventh Fleet and is involved in anti-submarine warfare.

Vizer, an aviation electrician's mate, second class, is a member of a squadron flying Sikorski "Sea King" helicopters which patrol waters in the Western Pacific.

gross income figure was less than $600. Persons 65 or older are only required to file returns if their income was $1200 or more.

In outlining the principal reasons for incomplete or erroneous returns, Philpott cited the following: mathematical errors caused by using incorrect tax tables; failure to list exemptions claimed to attach proper schedules and to sign tax returns.

Cemetery-Park Group Named

Partney Plans Minor Committee Changes

Mayor Partney told Granite City Council members Monday night after naming a three-council member committee to develop the East Granite cemetery as a park, that he does not plan any sweeping changes in committee chairmanships on May 1.

The rumor had been spreading that many chairmen were to be dumped. Last week, Aldermen Johnson, chairman of the Fire and Water committee, had remarked he saw no reason for the committee to arrange a meeting with East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. for franchise talks.

"What's the use," he remarked, "The committees are all to be changed May 1." Mayor Partney said Monday night, "There's no use holding up any projects until after May 1. I have no reasons to change committees, especially since the chairmen have been doing good jobs."

Elks Lodge Officer Installation April 12

Officers of Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 are to be installed at the next meeting Tuesday, April 12.

The installation will be public and the following will take office:

A. E. Michel, exalted ruler; C. O. Parker, leading knight; Ranney Rich, 1014 1/2 Knight; Robert Hendrickson, lecturing knight; Edward Jenkins, secretary; Arthur Bunte, treasurer; Fred Buerkle, iller; Ray Wilford, trustee, three years; Edward Yackel, trustee, two years; A. E. Michel, delegate to Grand Lodge convention; James R. Kenney, alternate delegate to Grand Lodge.

Three officers are to be appointed at the meeting.

The following new members were initiated at the last lodge meeting: Calvin C. Bosworth, Harvey R. House, John C. Hayes, Marvin C. Waggoner, Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer, Elwyn Holten, Robert M. Warford and Maynard C. Mercer.

The mayor indicated he would be making relatively few changes in any of his appointments at the start of the city's new fiscal year.

Cemetery Committee Named The new Cemetery committee were Sixth Ward Alderman Partney, who will serve as chairman, and Aldermen Nann and Johnson. The appointments were approved by council vote with Nann, Bartosiak and Johnson dissenting and Partney abstaining.

Partney suggested the committee could name a citizen group to assist in the project, and he mentioned William Jenkins, former assistant city inspector, who has made frequent trips to Springfield to confer with representatives of the Springfield Diocese.

In the past several years, a move has been underway for the headstones to be placed underground and for a memorial to be erected. The area then would be developed as a "quiet park" with the assistance of the park district.

The two cemeteries—Catholic and Protestant—cover 5.5 acres and are directly west of Kirk-

Views Differ on Naming New Park

LISTS POSSIBLE NAMES FOR DOWNTOWN PARK

To the Editor: I have already expressed my pleasure to park board members about having a downtown park, and now take this opportunity to express my thoughts on a name.

I do not feel that it should be named after any one individual, not even Mr. Kennedy, who had nothing to do with the space nor the town. I feel like "Mr. 1901," in that Mr. Kennedy has had all sorts of things and places named after him in a moment of grief. Unlike another Forum writer, I do not consider that Mr. Kennedy is a "fallen" president, in view of the fact that he was not defending our shores against an enemy, seen or unseen, he did not die upholding our Constitution or fighting to preserve our flag, but was on a political campaign to boost the votes of a Texas whose name, I dare say, none of us even remember today or if he even got elected.

Please don't misunderstand me, because I cried with the rest of the nation and world at the time of the tragedy, and I mentioned the fact that such a thing could happen in our country. However, the space has been provided by civic-minded citizens of the downtown business firms. Therefore, I submit such names as:

Citizens Park—Civic Park. Circle Park—as it was originally named.

Downtown Park. Old Post Office Park—which is probably the way we will refer to it.

Granite Park—after our own name.

Eagle Park—for the beautiful eagle which will adorn it.

Central Park—Frederick Park. I'm sure many others will think of other names. They should make their thoughts known, and possibly a committee may be selected to make the decision.

I am another old-timer who is proud of our city and remembers many, many past events, people and places. I have a piece of granite from the old post office steps to treasure among memories.

Views Exchanged With Dirksen on Spending

Dear Senator Dirksen: It's not bad enough that we taxpayers must pay for this absurd war in Vietnam—we must put up a pile of money as high as the Empire State Building to support this stupid skyscraper they are always shooting off down at Cape Canaveral.

It would seem that this government, which is allegedly a same government, is in some sort of foot race with the Russian government to see who can first put an astronaut on the moon. I cannot imagine anything more ridiculous.

And on top of that a "modest $750,000 residence" for that ridiculous and suspicious-looking vice-president!

I am a Republican and I voted for you and will do it again and I do not expect you to spend my money for such ambitious and silly schemes as outlined above.

John think a lot of things are overpriced. I don't know if anything nearly as over-priced as this comical federal government.

That's the way it goes, traveling west. Yours for a better and less expensive government.

JOHN J. MCCOMBS
2281 Waterman Avenue

Dear Mr. McCombs: We Republicans have consistently spoken out on the dangers of inflation, especially the hardships faced by those living on fixed incomes.

We have urged the administration to reduce federal spending by cutting back or eliminating programs which may be desirable but which are not vitally necessary in these troubled times.

COOPERATIVE EFFORTS TO GET CROSSING SIGNALS

To the Editor: Many great things are accomplished by those who silently work to the great ends. It is my extreme pleasure and aim to work with a fine group of folks on the Steering Committee of the Organization for Community Action.

We find on this committee a group of fine, dedicated folks who have a purpose and aim in mind for the good of the community and who are giving their all in a sacrificial way for the common good.

It has been an inspiration to see the good folks at work... as they meet folks who are doing the same thing. I am inspired to see the good folks at work... as they meet folks who are doing the same thing.

REASONS FOR NAMING THE KENNEDY PARK

To the Editor: "Resident Since 1901" disagrees with my suggestion that the new park downtown be dedicated to the late President John F. Kennedy.

However, I respect his opinion and would only like to point out that my suggestion was not at all related to the year the post office was built and the year President Kennedy was born.

My reasons are related to the fact that he campaigned through our community and that his assassination was the most tragic public event of our time.

The new park on the old federal post office site presents a timely opportunity, if a substantial sentiment exists in our community for acting on my suggestion.

Although I was originally less than enthusiastic about this candidate, and although I am not a Catholic, I came to greatly admire his Jeffersonian spirit, his steadfastness in crisis, and his capacity to rally his countrymen to a cause.

In my opinion every community in the land would do well if it could see to it that the call of his inaugural address lives on.

WHY ISN'T GRANITE CITY A GREAT CITY?

To the Editor: I would like to thank Alderman Parmy for his report on the interstate air pollution report. I thank him for his concern for the health of our city.

I know that this city has one of the finest school systems in the state, an efficient and imaginative park and recreation program, a good semi-weekly newspaper—if we can ignore the somewhat sterile editorial page.

All Voters Have a Duty to Participate in Local School Board Elections Saturday

The Quad-Cities' 1966 school board balloting Saturday will largely involve candidates whose ability and performance have already been demonstrated through board service.

But it would be a mistake for voters to fail to take the trouble to go to the polls during the noon to 7 p.m. period. Apathy of citizens regarding the operation of public schools is an evil that must be fought in every district every year.

In the Madison and Venice school districts, there is opposition on the ballots.

Venice candidates are two incumbent board members, Michael Leatherman and Fred Rumpf. Those unopposed in Madison are William G. Schreiber, an incumbent, and William Vavra, who has not previously served on the board; Dr. Steve Geroff is retiring.

Two Granite City school board positions are at stake, with three candidates in the running. L. Monroe Worthington, former treasurer and a board member six years, and Harry T. Tongay voiced sound general attitudes toward the schools at a public candidate forum last week. The other incumbent, Ronald L. Dillard, treasurer, former secretary and a board member three years, says in a biographical sketch elsewhere in today's issue that he is in sympathy with the school progress that has been made and hopes to see increased attention on reducing class size.

All of the candidates seem qualified and most of them are familiar with educational challenges through direct board experience. At the same time, it is important that citizens keep informed and retain a strong voice in school matters, rather than leaving school members unaware of their wishes and needs.

The system under which local schools operate can only function effectively with a strong link between elected officials and the public. The link can best be advanced Saturday by voters doing all they can to assure a large turnout.

Initial Area Plan Study Shows Rapid Growth

The story of the Quad-Cities and neighboring communities, as traced in the two-year planning study newly completed by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, is a tale of rapid growth in population, governmental services, transportation facilities, commerce, residential and industrial development and educational, recreational and cultural expansion.

"Bigger" does not "automatically" mean "better," but it does not need unsolvable problems if there is adequate planning.

The commission's record of the right, first step—concentrating on familiarizing itself and the public with the region as it now exists. Such a foundation is the only sound way to prepare for future development.

Science and the Quad-Cities

Breakthrough on Blood Reactions

As yet there is little evidence that the threat of a major metropolitan air pollution, although some cite a possibility of sustaining "cumulative insidious damage."

Even though scientific knowledge of the effects of air pollution is inadequate at this time, new controls are being enacted and standards for auto exhausts are expected to be in effect for vehicles produced in the late 1960s.

Pressures on Science

The AAAS calls attention to the danger of "military, economic and political pressures" stampeding the U. S. into the kind of acts that can endanger man.

Two examples cited are hard detergents, which sewage treatment plants cannot handle, and the 1962 detonation of a U. S. nuclear blast high over the Pacific.

Other pollutants—nitrogen oxides and others—are also present in auto exhaust gases.

Most people experience dizziness, headache and other symptoms at about 100 parts per million, a tenth of the lethal level. In almost every metropolitan area, the AAAS says, pollution concentrations of carbon monoxide approach 100 parts per million.

Other pollutants—nitrogen oxides and others—are also present in auto exhaust gases.

Stop Sign Charge Filed

John Stein, 2222 State Street, was charged with a stop sign violation charge at 21st and State streets. He was summoned for a hearing by April 17.

So-called good advice is seldom welcome, and those who need it most, like it least.

Easter, Passover Observed Here During Holy Week

Holy Week, the major ecclesiastical event of each year, is the center of increased attention in 1966 due to major changes taking place in the field of religion.

Religion have been regarded as barriers between various faiths are being revised, inter-denominational cooperation is receiving strong emphasis, and additional church mergers are under active consideration.

Specific religious observances this week are Easter for those of the Christian faiths and Passover for the Jewish people. Easter, which concludes the Lenten season, commemorates the resurrection of Jesus. The Passover marks the sparing or passing-over of Hebrews in Egypt.

Although these are the events currently celebrated, the early days of spring traditionally have had special significance. Easter gets its name from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess whose festival was observed each spring. Legend relates that it was she who opened the portals of Valhalla to receive the god of punishment and light.

Egg customs date back to the Egyptians and Persians. Greeks and Romans ate eggs annually in their spring festival, and eggs have long been associated with the theme of new life symbolized by the coming of spring.

Renewal of life is apparent again this spring, in lawns and fields, flower gardens and forests, dramatically demonstrating the deep truths and meaning of Holy Week. Even after a bleak season of cold and inactivity, nature seems to say, new life awaits.

Grandparents of Future Civilizations

The Granite City woman who passed away last weekend, leaving 128 living descendants, was a rarity. Not many people have an opportunity to see their family grow so large during their lifetimes.

But the number is not unusual when viewed from a longer period of time. Except for those families which do not go beyond the second or third generation, nearly every parent eventually becomes the direct ancestor of many thousands of persons.

We don't know if this explains why nearly everyone thinks he can trace his lineage back to some famous personage.

But it does demonstrate a fact that some parents may not have recognized: They are not only helping to shape the world which they live but, through their "grandchildren," all civilizations that will follow.

Pioneer Hardware Business Closing

Many business firms eventually conclude their operations or are absorbed by other corporations. The business mortality rate is particularly high when considered in terms of a half-century or century.

But even though this is true, there is sadness at the decision to close the Kahle hardware store, ending 60 years of continuous operation and 50 years in the same building, fronting on both Niedermeyer and Delmar streets.

The store is currently being operated by the third generation of the family.

Kahle Hardware is indelibly inscribed in the history of the Quad-Cities, and it is a place where one could always find the right size or type of nail, tool or thingamabob needed for a "do it yourself" household task.

Talent is wanting something bad enough to work for it.

The saddest words along the way: "What did that last road sign say?"

The Law Serves You

Patent Law Protects Inventors

(A Public Service of the Tri-City Patent Law Association)

The application also defines the scope of the invention and the degree of protection which the patent will give. Drawings are usually sent with the application. It must be filed within one year after the invention has been sold.

An examiner of the Patent Office will be assigned to examine the application and he, too, makes a search for prior patents.

If he believes that the law does not embody a new concept, but is merely an improvement in form over patents already patented, or in use, he declares that the invention is not patentable. The examiner prepares an opinion, either accepting or rejecting the application.

Once a case has been rejected, your attorney may amend the application or submit a new application in an effort to convince the examiner to change his position. If the examiner adheres to the rejection of the application, an appeal may be taken to the Patent Office Board of Appeals and from there to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

Patents on articles of manufacture, processes, machines, and the like, are not renewable. The life of patents on designs, patents on plants, and patents on articles of manufacture—depends on the fee the inventor pays when he obtains the patent, but none longer than 14 years.

During this time the inventor, called the "patentee," has the exclusive right to make and use the process or design described in his application, and may sell the right to another person, attempt to authorize a person, attempt to use the invention the patentee may apply to court for an injunction to halt the infringement, or sue for damages.

If it is found that no prior patent exists, the inventor may prepare a patent application and file it in the Patent Office. The application must be accompanied by a technical description of the invention, but not by a drawing.

So-called good advice is seldom welcome, and those who need it most, like it least.

LEARNING ABOUT STOCKS

I am 25, single and have no sizable obligations. I know nothing about the stock market, but am anxious to learn and would like to start investing $100 to $200 a month.

I talked to my broker, explaining that I want to start a long-term investment program that would let me learn the most about the market on my own. He suggested a mutual fund contract about the stock market, but for me to learn about the market and build a nest egg? Do you have any suggestions?

Veterans Preference Extended in Illinois

Gov. Kerner has ordered the immediate extension of preference points on original entrance merit examinations for state positions to veterans who have served on active duty in the armed forces since Jan. 31, 1965, according to Joseph D. Wetton, local representative of the Illinois Veterans' Commission.

Before the directive, veterans preference points were available only to those who had served in the armed forces during specified periods of hostility.

By passing the Cold War G.I. bill, "Congress has recognized this current period as one of active hostility," the governor said. "We want to waste no time in granting veterans with more recent active duty the same preference that was given to veterans of earlier conflicts."

Non-disabled veterans are entitled to have five points added to their final average in entrance examinations, while veterans disabled as a result of military service and receiving compensation from the Veterans Administration for service-connected disability are entitled to have 10 points added to their final average.

2 Candidates in Madison

WILLIAM G. SCHREIBER

William G. Schreiber and William Vavra, the only candidates for the two seats on the Madison school board, presented joint statements on reasons for seeking public office in Saturday's election.

Schreiber, 43, of 1913 Harris street, is employed as a pattern maker-mock up at McDonnell Aircraft and is experienced in job planning.

He attended Madison schools, a vocational trade school and had schooling in military service. He is a member of Madison Amvets Post 204, the International Association of Machinists and St. John United Church of Christ.

He is currently on the school board and has served on the Namekiki township board of auditors since 1961. He and his wife, Virginia, have a son, Michael.

Vavra, 47, of 1807 Fifth street, is employed as a salesman in the E. A. Friedman Co. store in Madison.

He is a member of Venice Madison American Legion Post 307, Madison Amvets Post 204 and the Croation Fraternal Union Sports Club.

He and his wife, Angela, have a daughter, Sharon, now a sophomore at Illinois State University.

In their joint statements, both said their reason for wishing to be a member of the board of education is a "sincere, personal desire to serve the people of Madison Community Unit School District 12 in a cooperative, common-sense way to provide the best educational service for our children within the limits of the public's ability and desire to pay for such service."

In answer to a request to outline any proposals they may have for classroom, administrative or board policy improvements, each said:

"I believe that the philosophy, objectives and procedures of the Board of Education of Madison Community Unit School District No. 12 have been tested, tried and found acceptable by the people of this district."

"The members of this school board, together with the chief administrator, believe they have a moral obligation to provide such leadership and render such service that will give dignity to the teaching profession and general school program, which in turn will engender trust and confidence on the part of all citizens in the value of public education."

"I hope to become a contributing member of this group of dedicated people who feel an obligation and responsibility to work together for an increasingly effective program of education for all, and in so far as is required of each member, to sub-

MICHAEL LEATHERMAN

Currently seeking his fourth term on the board is Michael E. Leatherman, 39, of 1031 Third street, Venice, who presently is serving as board president. He is employed as yardmaster at the Granite City Army Depot.

A life-long Venice resident, Leatherman is a graduate of Venice high school. He and his wife, Jacqueline, are the parents of three sons, Michael, 16, Frederick, 12, and Patrick, three.

The incumbent is active in the Venice-Madison American Legion, Post 307; Venice Crippled Children's Association; and on the Venice City Planning Board. He also is a member of the local draft board. Presently he serves as assistant chief of the Venice fire department, of which he is a past fire chief, and as chairman of the Sons of the Legion.

"A profound interest in the development of a better educational system for the Venice school district," Leatherman gave as his reason for seeking reelection.

Giving his views on any plans for classroom, administration or board policy improvements, the candidate replied, "There are many tentative plans for the im-merge personal ambition, prejudice and desires to that end."

provement of the Venice school system, especially for classrooms. A survey presently is being conducted to determine whether present school buildings can be corrected to meet state requirements. In a recent evaluation of our school system by a committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, one of the things noted was the size of our present high school, which was built to accommodate 75 pupils in 1917 and now contains 230 students.

"There is every indication, that over the next ten years, our enrollment at the high school level will increase. As for the school itself, I believe our system is as good as any in the area and that our teachers are striving to give Venice children the best education possible."

Replying to a Press-Record question on whether a single polling place is adequate, Leatherman stated, "As to the one polling place, I think past records speak for themselves. If a person sincerely is interested in the people to be elected, he will make the trip to the one polling place to cast his vote. But as a convenience to voters in the Eagle Park district, a second polling place in that area might be advisable."

Appointed to the Venice school board in October 1963 to com-

3 Candidates Seeking 2 GC School Board Posts

L. Monroe Worthen, 32, of 2645 Fortune drive, president of the Granite City board of education, is seeking a third three-year term on the board. Formerly school treasurer, he has the longest record of service among the current board members.

He is a member of the Granite City Jaycees and St. Peter United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed). He and his wife, Toby, have a son, Cory, eight years old, and a daughter, Beth, five.

In a school board candidate forum last week, he said he favors expansion of the counseling and remedial reading programs, use of experimental instructional procedures and salary negotiations and stressed the importance of board members being aware of the needs, wishes and ideas of staff members and the public. Ronald L. Dillard, 30, resides at 2725 Sunset drive and is manager of the B&E Planning Mill & Supply Co.

The Dillard family includes his wife, Jacquelyn Sue, two sons, Jonathan Jay, five, and Timothy Scott, eight, and a daughter, Amy Lynn, one.

Dillard, a former physical education teacher in the Granite City school district, also has a background in Granite City park athletic programs. He was educated in Granite City public schools and attended Southern Illinois University for his B. S. degree in education. He is a member of the Granite City Jaycees, Eagles Lodge and Trinity Methodist Church.

Each candidate was asked to outline any proposals for classroom, administrative or board policy improvements. A member of the Granite City school board since 1963, formerly secretary and now board treasurer, Dillard said, "We have a school system of which we are proud. Although there are many problems and situations that our school system faces, every day, one is in the field of education. I believe the biggest problem is the size of our classes.

"With the ever-increasing population in our city, the situation cannot be corrected overnight. We are studying this problem in the hope that we can give our children a better and more complete education with the very minimum of students per classroom."

"Our school personnel are doing a fine job and, through the cooperation of the school board, administration, teachers, parents, other school personnel and the citizens, we can make rapid curriculum and buildings so that we may give the children of our community the best education possible."

Harry T. Tongay, 37, of 1920 Jay avenue, a truck driver for Kroger Co., is seeking his first public office, although he has been active in community affairs, such as PTA, scouting and other youth organizations.

Tongay, a Navy veteran with nearly four years service, operated his own business for five years, and said he received experience in procurement, labor relations, efficient operation of a budget system and in training key leaders in volunteer work.

He is active in the Mt. Zion Baptist Church and is a commissioner in charge of all Cub Pack activities in the Quad Cities. While a scoutmaster, he was one of three chosen out of a group of 70 to attend the national scout jamboree.

His wife, Wilma, is employed at the Granite City Steel Co. office, and they have two children, Perry, who attends Coolidge junior high school, and Kathryn, who is a pupil at Frohardt school.

Tongay said he believes all citizens should be willing to have the time and desire to serve in elective offices. "I have the time and desire to serve our community conscientiously. I am sincerely interested in the future of our young people, and I believe the public should have a choice in this important ballot."

"I feel that I can offer knowledge and experience that will be of value to the school district, and I believe I can stimulate public interest and support in school board activities by keeping people abreast of what's happening."

In giving his views on the proposals for classroom, administrative or board policy improvements, Tongay said:

"We have a highly rated school district. But any good system demands constant scrutiny and upgrading to keep it that way. Methods of teaching, accounting, public relations are constantly being changed."

"We must realize that all members of the school district are, first of all, family men and women with a living to make. With this in mind, salaries and working conditions can be worked out equitably if all persons involved are willing to work together for the good of the community as a whole."

"The very simplest of accounting principles applied to the school district assures efficient operation — budgeting income against expenditures — and get the most for the least."

"Mutual trust between board members, administration, and the general public will follow a worthy program, if the public and members are working together. The right hand must know what the left hand is doing."

"Our number one objective is the best possible education for our youngsters."

Hohlt Honored as Charter President Of Local Chamber
B. E. Hohlt, first president and one of the founders of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, was honored at a Chamber of Commerce Week meeting Tuesday night during a monthly Chamber board meeting, held at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

The charter president responded with a talk in which he described the effort to establish the chamber in its early years. Noting that its predecessor was the Commercial Club, he recalled that Edwin G. Schmitt was instrumental in creating the Chamber and that Al J. Mueller served the first term, serving on a part-time basis.

Hohlt related that he originally worked under Schmitt, being assigned to the Madison office of Illinois Power Co. in 1938 replaced the late Joseph McGraw as local Ford auto dealer.

Early days of the Chamber were recalled by Otto H. Romann, Agriculture Committee chairman, in discussing plans for the 1966 Business-Industry.

The commissioners have earmarked $7500 of current tax funds for the construction, but no cost estimate has been made for the structure have not been decided. The building would be used for administration, storage and also have space to garage the district's mobile equipment.

Park employees, it was reported to the commissioners, currently are completing the planting of trees in the park.

Quarterly Report

Injuries from Quad-City Traffic Accidents Climb

While total traffic accidents in the Quad-City area showed a decline for both the first quarter of 1966 and for the month just concluded, injuries resulting from the lower accident figures increased about 20%. Traffic deaths increased as well.

In comparing March 1966 with the same month a year ago accidents were down, 194 to 204, injuries during this March were only up one, 87 as compared to 86 last March and deaths were doubled this year as compared to the previous March, 4 to 2. The increased figures for injuries in the quarterly total were due to higher totals for the first two months of 1966. For the quarter, accidents totaled 584 compared to 616 for the same quarter of 1966, injuries increased to 222 as against 234 in 1965 and there was one more fatality during the quarter just ended. Eight people have died in 1966 as compared to seven for the same period last year.

Granite City's MFT Projects this Year to Cost $422,124

Words of caution by Mayor Partney for the council to watch carefully its expenditure of motor fuel tax funds for street work went virtually unheeded Monday night as the council proceeded to call for added projects.

The mayor noted that the city will have only $38,000 in the fund next Dec. 31 with present commitments, leaving almost no funds available for regular maintenance on any needed street work in 1967.

The attitude of most council members was that the city gets allocations of about $20,000 a month, and that the fund will be built up in time for summer work in 1967.

Notification was received from the state that a supplemental resolution calling for an additional $25,000 MFT for the Olive and Chestnut street improvements had been approved.

The project, which will total $75,000, was opposed last week, but gained sufficient support for approval of the supplemental allowance, and bids now are being sought.

Olive street is to be improved from St. Louis to Chicago street and Chestnut street from Niedringhaus avenue to St. Louis avenue.

Mayor's MFT Report
A report on MFT funds was presented to the council by Mayor Partney, who noted that this year's total allocation from the state is expected to hit $467,663, including the Jan. 1, 1966, balance of $217,663.

Expenditures this year are to be $107,677 for arterial street maintenance, $145,000 as the city's share of cost for improvement of Maryville road under a joint arrangement with the county, and $37,391 as the city's share of the joint project with the city of Madison for improvement of McCambridge avenue north from Edwardsville road to 14th street.

The mayor pointed out the indicated balance on Dec. 31 would be $46,000, but that payment of engineering costs for the south section of the Nameoki road project has cut the balance to $38,000.

The north section of Nameoki road, the Maryville road and the McCambridge avenue projects already are under contract.

In his notice of MFT fund status, the mayor urged the council proceed with a $37,700 project for improvement of four streets east of Nameoki road that originally were planned last year.

Bid Call Approved
This project calls for improvement of Clark, Lindell, Cottage and Garfield avenues for a distance of about 400 feet of Nameoki road. Support of the project also was urged by Alderman Johnson, whose motion to seek bids was approved by a vote of 12-10-4.

Voting for the bid call were Neumann, Bartosik, Johnson, Dallas, Morrien, Thompson, Fry, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos and Green. Opposed were Rutledge, Whitmer, Boyd and Sternberg.

Alderman Bartosik called for the street car track removal along Niedringhaus avenue from Madison avenue to Washington avenue and along Washington avenue from 22nd to 24th street to be among the first of the MFT projects in 1967. The estimated cost was set at $40,000.

Alderman Thompson quickly took the floor and asked that improvement of heavily-traveled Johnson road then be earmarked as the "first" project in 1967 for MFT funds. Plans for this project were approved by the state in 1964 at an estimated cost of $28,100. The paving would be from Carlson avenue to Franklin avenue.

While no vote was taken on Thompson's request, Bartosik's request was supported by a 10-10-5 vote of the council. Opposed were Rutledge, Johnson, Sternberg, Thompson and Fry. Nomm was out of the room when the vote was taken.

Johnson's request for the city attorney to determine if property was still available for the widening of Wabash avenue north of Johnson road and south of Ponton road was approved, and the city is to get appraisals for eventual purchase of needed right-of-way.

Kiwanis Lt. Governor
Commends GC Club
Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Basil Compton of East St. Louis commended Granite City Kiwanis for achieving District 14 first place honors for February, during the local club's dinner meeting Monday evening at the Ross Bowl restaurant. Peter F. Jelen, Kiwanis president, led the pledge to the flag and the invocation was offered by Harold Maples.

The district official pointed out that in winning the district's top monthly award, club members had accumulated 96 out of a possible 100 points, based on their service to the community, plus attendance percentage. Jelen also praised the group, citing a cooperative attitude toward all projects as a major factor in capturing the honor.

Jelen said that six Kiwanians would attend Maundy Thursday services today at the First United Presbyterian Church, along with other service club members. Representatives from the local group, with their wives, also will participate in the annual District 14 spring fellowship dinner meeting, at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Collinsville, the club executive said.

In other business William Seebold and William Waggoner were appointed as co-chairmen for the fifth annual speed boat championship races on the Mississippi River in August, co-sponsored by the Kiwanis and the Boy Life Boat Club. Marvin Barnes reported on the purchase of four trees, which are to be planted in the new downtown park area on Niedringhaus avenue, between Edison and Delmar avenues.

Inter-club activities were discussed by Herbert Schannott, who said Freeman Wolfe, Barnes, Robert Lombardi, Alvin Gross and Jelen had attended an inter-club meeting with Wood River Kiwanians last week.
